As the old proverb goes...We were friends first. Having met one another skiing in Deer Valley, Utah at the age of 24, we quickly realized that we had grown up only two miles from one another without ever becoming friends. Little did we know that our mutual zip code would one day soon be the foundation of our future together.

A few months after becoming acquainted, I moved back home to Philadelphia to be with him where we fell in love. Shortly after, we got engaged in Nantucket. Today, I realize that home is certainly where the heart is.
